

Statement Regarding Ablepoint — Request for Evidence, Clarification and Independent Review

15 September 2026

I am seeking a clear, evidence-based response from Ablepoint regarding serious concerns I have raised about my treatment, safety, accommodation and the circumstances surrounding the services being provided to me.

I am not asking Ablepoint to accept my allegations as established facts. I am asking Ablepoint to identify the evidence it holds, correct any inaccuracies, and explain the basis for decisions or actions affecting me.

In particular, I ask Ablepoint to produce or identify:

- any signed service agreement between Ablepoint and me;
- any lease or tenancy agreement that I have signed;
- records documenting the services, supports and accommodation arrangements being provided to me;
- records concerning any threats to kill, threats of violence or other safety concerns that have been reported to Ablepoint;
- records showing whether and when such matters were reported to police, a court, NDIS, or another relevant authority;
- records concerning allegations of libel, slander, paedophilia or rape made about me, including who made those allegations, when they were received, and what steps were taken to verify or assess them;
- records concerning any communication between Ablepoint and police, legal representatives, medical or psychiatric services, media, my family or NDIS concerning me;
- records concerning any medication, drugs or substances allegedly provided to me through third parties or paid actors;
- records concerning any alleged communication with hospitals or health professionals about my medication or treatment, including any issue concerning ADHD medication.

I also ask Ablepoint to respond specifically to my concerns that I may have been entrapped, isolated, coerced or otherwise placed in circumstances that have adversely affected my safety, autonomy and ability to obtain assistance.

I allege that there may have been a coordinated pattern of conduct involving Ablepoint and/or other individuals or organisations. I do not presently claim that this has been established as fact. I am asking for the matter to be independently assessed against the available documentary evidence.

I am particularly concerned about whether circumstances have arisen in which allegations about me have been accepted or repeated without those allegations having been tested through an appropriate legal or evidentiary process. If Ablepoint has relied upon such information in making decisions about my accommodation, supports, safety or treatment, I request that it identify the information relied upon and provide me with an opportunity to respond.

I am also concerned about the possibility of psychiatric or clinical information being used in a way that may have the effect of discrediting my complaints rather than investigating their substance. I accept that my perceptions and recollections should be assessed objectively, including where there may be factors affecting my perception. That does not, however, remove the need to investigate objectively verifiable evidence such as documents, communications, contracts, reports, recordings, clinical records and contemporaneous complaints.

I therefore request that Ablepoint preserve all relevant records and communications and provide a reasoned response addressing each of these matters.

My purpose in making this statement is not to prejudge the outcome. It is to ensure that serious allegations affecting my safety, dignity, accommodation and access to assistance are documented, investigated and answered on evidence rather than dismissed or assumed to be true or false without examination.

I ask Ablepoint to provide a written response identifying:

- 1. what is accepted as fact;
- 2. what is disputed;
- 3. what evidence supports Ablepoint's position;
- 4. what evidence remains unavailable or requires investigation; and
- 5. what steps Ablepoint will take to ensure my safety and procedural fairness while these matters are being considered.

Statement Regarding Ablepoint's Non-Response

15 September 2026

I have raised serious concerns with Ablepoint concerning my safety, accommodation, treatment and the circumstances surrounding the supports being provided to me.

I have sought a substantive, evidence-based response to specific matters, including requests for documentation and clarification concerning service agreements, accommodation arrangements, reported threats, allegations made about me, communications with other organisations, and matters affecting my safety and access to appropriate support.

If Ablepoint does not provide a substantive response, I want the significance of that non-response to be recorded accurately.

Ablepoint's failure to provide a substantive response does not, of itself, establish the truth of my allegations. I do not ask that its silence be treated as an admission.

However, a non-response may have evidentiary and procedural significance because:

- 1. The allegations and questions I have raised remain unanswered.
- 2. Ablepoint has not identified the evidence on which its position is based, if it has such evidence.
- 3. The factual issues therefore remain unresolved rather than disproved.
- 4. If receipt of this statement can be established, Ablepoint has been placed on notice of the concerns I have raised.
- 5. The absence of a substantive response may itself become relevant to any subsequent independent review, complaint, investigation or oversight process, particularly if Ablepoint was expected to engage with the matters raised.
- 6. A later decision-maker should distinguish carefully between the underlying allegations and the fact that those allegations were raised and not substantively answered.

I therefore ask that any subsequent assessment not characterise my concerns as having been "resolved" merely because Ablepoint has not responded.

The appropriate distinction is:

The allegations are matters requiring assessment. The non-response does not prove the allegations, but neither does non-response constitute a substantive answer to them.

I request that Ablepoint either:

- provide the evidence and reasons supporting its position;
- identify which matters it disputes and why;
- identify what information it cannot provide and the reason;
- correct any factual inaccuracies in my statement; or
- provide a clear explanation of what investigation or review it considers necessary.

I further request preservation of relevant records and communications so that the matters can be independently assessed if necessary.

My objective is not to obtain an automatic finding in my favour. My objective is to ensure that serious concerns affecting my safety, dignity, accommodation, supports and procedural fairness are properly documented and considered on the available evidence.

Accordingly, if Ablepoint elects not to provide a substantive response, I ask that the record state simply:

"The concerns and evidentiary questions were put to Ablepoint. No substantive response was provided."

That is the evidentiary proposition I rely upon. I do not claim that silence, by itself, proves the underlying allegations.

Requested Response Timeframe

I request written acknowledgement of this statement within 2 business days of receipt and a substantive written response within 10 business days.

If Ablepoint considers that 10 business days is insufficient because of the complexity of the matters raised, I request that Ablepoint advise me within that period:

- 1. who is responsible for handling the matter;
- 2. what aspects are being investigated;
- 3. what further information is required from me;
- 4. what interim measures are being taken concerning my safety and supports; and
- 5. the expected date for providing a substantive response.

Failure to respond within this requested timeframe will not be treated by me as proof that my allegations are true. However, it will be recorded as the absence of a substantive response to matters that I have formally raised and specifically requested Ablepoint to address.

I ask that the date this statement is received by Ablepoint be recorded, together with the date of any acknowledgement and substantive response.
