I wear a few different hats and am an artist, human rights-awarded autobiographer & writer, public speaker/recovery expert, and PhD in arts based research and narrative inquiry.

I provide services to clients on the NDIS, and it is my privilege to offer therapeutic support via my unique arts-life-coaching for marginalized people with mental health & other issues in Melbourne.

If you're looking for help for yourself or someone you know who is on the NDIS to get a 'leg up' with a good dose of light-hearted humor and lived experience with secular ethics that hold kindness in the greatest regard—you just found him!

This footage is an element of the digital creative component completed as an arts-based research project for my Masters in Education at Victoria University. (2015).

Masters of Education Exegesis

In essence, this study aims to simplify and complicate in words and imagery the emotional, physical, spiritual, and political qualities of two gay men embracing. It looks through each of those lenses and journeys in an ongoing cumulative interactive platform that results in the final interactive website and accompanying exegesis. (You can download that on the right).

The relationship I was in, however, was toxic and abusive and ultimately disintegrated. In the film, I think you can see my subconscious awareness of the other party disappearing, which was for my highest good. Experiences offer us learning opportunities.

'(R)Evolutionary Healing, and consists of distinct genres beginning with a challenge, followed by courage, then the non-so-obvious but important creative step of playing, and the final stage of love. '
