Dear Barran Dodger (Richard McLean),

Thank you for contacting the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission. We've received your concerns about the quality of services provided by Support Worker Cass.

Next steps

If you haven't already done so, we recommend discussing the issue/s with the provider involved or Cass directly. Providers are expected to handle complaints fairly and quickly. If you speak with the provider involved or Cass directly, and they agree to address your concerns, you can withdraw your complaint by replying to this email or by calling 1800 035 544.

We'll contact you if we need more information. You can also send us further details by direct reply to this email.

Help from an advocate

An advocate may be able to help you with your complaint. You can find an advocate using the Disability Advocacy Finder | Ask Izzy

Role of the NDIS Commission

The NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission is the national regulator of the NDIS. We work to improve the quality and safety of NDIS supports and services accessed by people with disability.

We do this by:

setting and enforcing rules and standards, including the NDIS Code of Conduct and NDIS Practice Standards, which NDIS providers and workers must follow guiding and empowering NDIS participants to know and exercise their rights.

Privacy: Your personal information will be handled in line with the Privacy Act and Australian Privacy Principles. Learn more: Privacy | NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission
