Communication changes with the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA)

Dear Mr McLean,

I am writing to advise you that we need to make changes to the way you communicate with the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA).

The NDIA is committed to the values of taking care and valuing people, and this is important for all communication between Participants, staff, and representatives. Respectful relationships and interactions enable us to assist you.

On 12 January 2024, we sent you a letter to let you face to face services would be withdrawn for a 12-month period. We also advised that we would reassess these arrangements and determine whether the arrangements needed to be continued.

This 12-month period is due to finish on 11 January 2025, and we have now reassessed these arrangements.

Following consultation, we have determined that these restrictions will continue.

Why are these changes required?

On Thursday 19 September 2024, you presented to the NDIA Liverpool site. This attendance contravened with your restrictions to attend a NDIA office.

In addition, over the last 12 months, you have displayed unreasonable behaviour in your email correspondence including using explicit and intimidating language, made reference to sexual acts, and made threats of harm towards NDIA staff.

Due to this behaviour, we are putting in place some restrictions regarding your contact with us as a precautionary measure to ensure the safety, security, and wellbeing of staff.

What this means for you:

Effective from Wednesday, 11 December 2024, face to face services will continue to be withdrawn for a 6-month period. This means you are not permitted to attend or enter any NDIA office in Australia, including our Partners in the Community.

You must comply with the instructions contained within this letter. If you do not comply with these instructions, police will be contacted immediately, and you may be liable for prosecution in relation to:

- S20(1) Public Order (Protection of Persons and Property) Act 1971.

The NDIA remains committed to providing continued support and assistance to you and can confirm that whilst you are unable to attend or enter any NDIA office in Australia, including our Partners in the Community, you remain a Participant of the National Disability Insurance Scheme and are still able to use your NDIS funding.

For any scheduled or unscheduled plan reassessments, alternate communication arrangements can be made to ensure you are able to participate in discussions about your NDIS supports and funding, for example, a telephone meeting or email correspondence.

How long will this strategy remain in place?

These restrictions will remain in place for a 6-month period from the date of this letter. At the end of this period, we will reassess these conditions and determine whether they need to be continued.

If you would like to provide input when we reassess this decision, you can do so by writing to us before the end of this restriction period via CSN.escalations@ndis.gov.au.

Alternative Contact Arrangements:

You may still contact your CSN Planner via email, or by using the NDIA standard email or telephone communication channels. If you wish to do so, please ring our number 1800 800 110 or email enquiries@ndis.gov.au.

We kindly request that you treat our staff with courtesy and respect so that the NDIA can continue to provide you support. If you communicate unreasonably or act aggressively towards our staff, the call will be terminated immediately.

If you have any questions about this letter, please contact us via CSN.escalations@ndis.gov.au.

Yours sincerely
